More than 70% of people in the world have no access to dental treatment. Bridge2Aid believes that everybody has the right to safe emergency dental care.

Bridge2Aid has now provided access to safe emergency dental care to over 4 million people in Tanzania. We have done this through sending volunteers from the UK dental community to train rural health workers. We are saving lives and freeing millions more from the prospect of misery and pain.

However we need to go further, because the rural population of Tanzania alone is 35 million people. This is what our Big Skill Share is - it's a game changer, a huge next move.

Now we are returning to the District Dental Officers who we've been working alongside on our training programmes and giving them the knowledge to teach others emergency dental skills. This is where we see our core value of sustainability really come to life. It's a model that becomes self sufficient, and it's the only realistic way that our work can tackle such a vast problem.

Our model:

PHASE 1 – Groundbreaking: UK dental volunteers begin training Tanzanian health workers in emergency dental skills

PHASE 2 – The Big Skill Share: UK volunteers teach District Dental Officers how to train in emergency dental skills - ‘training the trainer’

PHASE 3 – Sustainable Change: Tanzanian trainers train Tanzanian health workers emergency dental skills supported by Bridge2Aid expertise.

The Big Skill Share is vital to solidifying the success of our Tanzanian work and we need your help. By donating to this great leap forwards you'll be helping to create a change that will last lifetimes.
